

Sport

Sport is a set of physical exercises is practicing in individual or collective games that can give rise to competition

According to the broad interpretation of the concept, sport is a universal phenomenon in time and space in the human, and, to quote a Byzantine maxim, "people without sports are sad people." 14 Number of recent phenomena that seem, in fact accompany sports history from the beginning: professionalism doping, supporters to arbitration problems.

In the world of the disabled ... we talk about Handisport. Handisport is a sport whose rules have been designed so that it can be practiced by people with physical or sensory disabilities. Sport is called adapted sports for people with mental disabilities. Many of these sports are based on existing sports. However, some sports have been created specifically for people with disabilities and do not have a valid sports equivalent.

Jean Chevalier Sanon, President of the National Paralympic Committee (NPC), has precise will be a selection of forty best athletes to prepare Parapan Games to be held in 2015 in Canada and the Paralympic Games to be held in 2016 in Brazil. From August 29 to September 9, 2012, Haiti had participated in the Paralympic Games in London with two athletes. The President of the National Paralympic Committee commended the two athletes who represented the country stressing that participation was beneficial for the same Haitian disabled sports if they did not win medals. "Through our participation in these games a support committee to assist Haiti was born. This is the mayor of the Olympic Village, which is its honorary president. "

Also, The president emphasized the role that sport can play in society. "For the sport from its universal characteristics, embraces all social strata, without distinction and also acts as a tool for peace and psychological balance allowing the man to appreciate whatever his physical appearance or his limitations intellectual, "said the representative of NPC-Haiti.

After 12 January 2010, the number of disabled people has experienced an unfortunate increase in Haiti. And to help those people in trouble, the Paralympic movement wants to be a necessary and indispensable instrument for the promotion of disabled athletes and especially for the unification of society. Paralympic encourages and enables people of all ages to practice para sport. For the participation of a disabled person in a wheelchair of any discipline is a living testimony of his willingness to share his talents with his human environment.

This said, the Paralympic movement, help for the disabled the way to practice sport. de participate in competitions that are on a national scale often 17 October each is baptized national competition of Disabled Sports Day ". An initiative of the National Paralympic Committee.

About 500 disabled athletes usually take the part. Sports include table tennis, basketball on wheelchairs, athletics, football, weightlifting, running on a wheelchair and bocce.

Several categories of athletes will compete: 100 meters (one-legged, young teenager with intellectual disabilities), 100 m Tandem: not seeing and guides, 200m, 400m: 800m marathon and young teenager with intellectual disabilities, wheelchair race: paralytic cerebral, one-legged.